President Bush Emphasizes Importance of Bio-fuel

In a speech today on his economic stimulus proposal, President Bush strongly endorsed bio-fuel.

President Bush stated:

“This country is waiting for action. And in the time that we have been waiting, more than 415,000 workers have lost their jobs. Further delay could put more Americans and more families at risk. So let's move. Let's get the job done.”

I also want to improve our homeland security and our economy by having a national energy plan. I want to thank the Farm Journal Forum for emphasizing the importance of ethanol and biofuels. These fuels are gentle on the environment. They are fuels that can be renewed year after year, and fuels that can expand our farm economy. These fuels are made right here in America, so they can't be threatened by any foreign power.

Ethanol and biofuels are fuels of the future for this country. Since the beginning of my administration, I have strongly supported ethanol and biofuels. And the energy plan I sent to Congress back in the spring supports biofuels.

The House passed an energy plan. Now it's time for the Senate to act and pass an energy plan. It's in our national security interests to do so. I look forward to signing a national energy bill.”

President Bush's speech confirms why bio-fuel production should be considered one of the few high potential growth industries in the US economy.

With its planned bio-fuel facility in Richland in eastern Washington state, Go Green Industries will be producing an environmentally friendly product that helps the national vision of achieving energy self sufficiency and creating jobs for Americans.
